world famous tourist attraction, due to the fried spider snacks that are so popular there. Among all the fruit and vegetable stands, you'll see women carrying large trays, full of fried and spiced spiders, some the size of a grown man's palm. Second, we'll stop to visit the ancient of Kampong Kdei Bridge. This Bridge is about 1000 years old, almost the same period of Angkor Wat. It's a grand ancient laterite bridge measuring 86m long and 14m wide with 21 arches and topped by a sandstone balustrade with stunning ornamental Naga and it's believed to have been built in the 12th century during the reign of King Jayavarman VII until we drop you off at your hotel and overnight in Siem Reap.

Next, we'll visit Ta-Prom Temple, built from 1186 and originally known as Rajavihara (Monastery of the King), Ta Prohm was a Buddhist temple dedicated to the mother of Jayavarman VII. It is one of the few temples in the Angkor region where an inscription provides information about the temple's dependents and inhabitants and visit to Banteay Srei Temple. This is the fabled pink temple of women, so called because it is made of pink sandstone and considered a tribute to the beauty of women. Its small size, delicate carvings and remarkable state of preservation make Banteay Srei one of everyone's favorite temples. It's Apsara and male and female divinities represent the most skilled craftsmanship of sand stone carvings. We continue our journey to Angkor Wat Temple – one of the seven greatest architectural wonders of the world, built in between the 9th – 13th century. Angkor provides wonderful
